

Xmas budget cuts?

When the local Santa Claus landed at the Karen Club recently in a Lady Lori helicopter, rumour had it that he had upgraded. No more messing with temperamental flying reindeers. But his colleagues around the world looked like they were feeling the effects of budget cuts. In Belarus, Santa was spotted hitching a lift while in Italy, it was all about boat pooling. And let us not forget Malaysia, where Santa had to dive for dinner! But in Kenya he can afford a chopper? WikiLeaks must have a perfectly reasonable explanation for that....
